

Salem Nov. 8 - 57

Dear Mrs Chapman

Care you, and will you send us a contribution of goods for our coming Fair?

As the time for holding it approaches we grow tremblingly anxious about it, perhaps too nervously anxious for Christian philosophers The vantage ground we have secured by long years of severe labor is too precious to be lost — even as much of it. Too much is depending on our next
publication of the Bugle and on the Bugle primarily depends the promulgation and consertration of the cause of freedom in the west therefore tho every thing around us tends to discouragement we strive and will continue to strive as in duty bound for the best results, and therefore we entreat of you to aid us all that you can consistently with other important interests

The faithful lecture-ers under Miss Foster's charge cannot do much for us pecuniarily - but they all bear witness that there never was so good a time for meetings, and for getting to the ears and understanding of the people. Tho' their labor cannot be made pecuniarily available at the present they are doing a great work for the future

If you should send a box to us send by
care of the Penn-Rail Road

With anxious earnest desire that your Bazaar
a sincere prayer that
may very soon realize a comforting amount of faith and hope in present success, very truly your friend
